

Root Causes Network

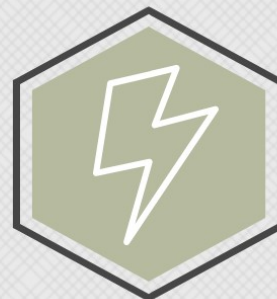

The Network provides a permanent infrastructure to build the capacity of human service providers to advance inclusive and community-centered policy.

Provide a formal and regular meeting place for human service nonprofits to advance their skills and knowledge.

Provide opportunities to inform, influence, and participate in statewide public policy efforts.

Increase the influence and power of human service nonprofits within the policy field and landscape.

Bridging the Gap

Despite their shared goals, human service policy and advocacy groups are disconnected, resulting in policies that may not fully reflect community needs.

We believe to strengthen the power and influence of human service nonprofits and their clients in advocacy efforts, there must be a network of support providing resources, training, and relationship building to move their work forward.
